

476BC

By the defeat of XERXES, the Ionians became free
to join Athens in a league,
in which they finally become
her subjects.

476 BC

By the time of 476 BC games were the pancration, [a no-holds-barred fighting (all manner of wrestling holds, kicks, and blows were permitted; only eye-gouging and biting were prohibited)]; the HOPLITES (a two lap race in which each runner wore a helmet and carried a shield); a horse race;

a mulecast race; and contacts for trip (stake & boxing)

Only a few events were added
later on.

476 BC

Theogenes of Thasos was disqualified from Boxing in the 476 BC Olympics

Euthyros (of So. Italy) took advantage of his rival's absence and won boxing in 476 BC
Theogenes won pancration in
476 BC

476 BC $472 BC

If there was a special golden epoch of olympic games it came with the games of 476 BC and 472 BC

476 BC

Nearly the full complement of athletic events had been incorporated in the Olympic games.
(Some excavation has been done)

476 BC

The cult of Zeus at Olympia during the 476 BC games was the happy recipient of many valuable donations. (People & states donated their booty from the Persian War)

enabling the temple to Zeus to be built,

476BC

561-476BC

1912 Dates J-BK

ANACREON

Greek lyric poet. Few genuine fragments of his poems remain.

A conception of their spirit may be gleaned from Thomas Moore's imitations